

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

THE AFFLICTED'S REMEMBRANCER.

THE Compiler of the following Manual, having found from his own experience that the memory is greatly assisted by means of an Alphabetical Arrangement, has, according to this plan, endeavoured to select and arrange certain portions of Scripture, which may, by the blessing of God, be made profitable to His Afflicted People.

It is not their Father's will, that the children should be "without chastisement whereof all are partakers;" wherefore He has furnished them with "exceeding great and precious promises," every way fitted to support and strengthen them in all their "tribulation in the world."

It is with the view of more effectually fixing in the memory some of these precious promises, that this little compilation has been made. And if any "poor afflicted ones" by means of it, shall be better enabled to keep in memory some of the true sayings of God, and thereby be sustained and comforted in their affliction, the Compiler will rejoice in having thus "ministered to the saints."

ALL things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. Rom. viii. 28.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh, receiveth; and he that seeketh, findeth; and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened. Matt. vii. 7, 8.

As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Rev. iii. 19.

A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation. Psalm lxviii. 5.

As thy days, so shall thy strength be. Deut. xxxiii. 25.

Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your rest: because it is polluted. Micah ii. 10.

As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth, even for ever. Ps. cxxv. 2.

And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them. Isa. xlii. 16.

And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear. Isa. lxv. 24.

As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings; so the Lord alone did lead him, and there was no strange god with him. Deut. xxxii. 11, 12.

Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits. Song iv. 16.

sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth. Ps. lxxi. 20.

Tribulation worketh patience; and patience, experience; and experience, hope: and hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us. Rom. v. 3–5.

This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality; then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. 1 Cor. xv. 53, 54.

Thou art my hiding-place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble: thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Ps. xxxii. 7.

To this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. Isa. lxvi. 2.

Unless thy law had been my delights, I should then have perished in mine affliction. Ps. cxix. 92.

Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be ashamed of my hope. Ps. cxix. 116.

Unless the Lord had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence. Ps. xciv. 17.

Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, and hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. Rev. i. 5, 6.

Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether. Song ii. 17.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. John xii. 24.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever

no more; but ye see me; because I live, ye shall live also. John xiv. 19.

You only have I known of all the families of the earth; therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities. Amos iii. 2.

Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. Jer. xxix. 13.

Ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. 1 Cor. vi. 20.

Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. Isa. xxvi. 8, 9.

As th' eagle stirreth up her nest,
And fondly cherisheth her brood;
So may God's people always rest,
In His sure promise, for their good.

Behold I knock, and even stand!
O suff'rer, bid me not depart:
This very trouble, I command,
To gain admission to thy heart.

Cast all thy burden on the Lord,
When heavy-laden and oppress'd;
He, to the weak, doth strength afford,
And to the weary giveth rest.

Draw nigh to God, and He to you
Will manifest His gracious face;
His promises are sure and true
To every son of Jacob's race.

Each precious gift, and truly good,
Repentance, Faith, and holy Love,
Our daily bread, and heavenly food,
Comes, from our Father, from above.

Fear not, for I am with thee still,
To give thee strength, and thee uphold;
No power at all can do thee ill,
When in my arms I thee infold.

Good is the Lord, and most upright,
He, therefore, sinners will instruct
In every way that's just and right,
And thus to glory them conduct.

Humble yourselves, and lowly lie,
Beneath the mighty hand of God;
Out of the depths unto Him cry,
When smitten by affliction's rod.

Jesus, my Lord! the great I Am!
To-day, and yesterday, the same,
My Saviour! God's appointed Lamb,
Immanuel is thy blessed name.

Leave thine orphans to my care,
And let your widows trust in me:
I will hear the orphan's prayer,
And listen to the widow's plea.

My sheep I know, they follow me,
And in my pastures daily feed;
When foes assail, to me they flee,
I save them in the time of need.

No chast'ning yields a present joy,
But causes grief, and fear, and pain,
Yet He who does the rod employ,
Intends it for the suff'rers gain.

O death! thy venom'd sting was sin,
Which also opened the grave;
But faith, receiving Christ within,
Triumphs in Him who lives to save.

Peace, even my peace, I give to you,
The Prince of Peace himself proclaims;
A precious message, yet how few
Believe it, and obey its claims.

Religion, pure and undefiled,
Will manifest itself in this,
To aid the widow, and her child,
And visit them in their distress.

Spirit Divine! sent down from God,
Come into my polluted heart,
Make thou of it a fit abode,
And never out of it depart.

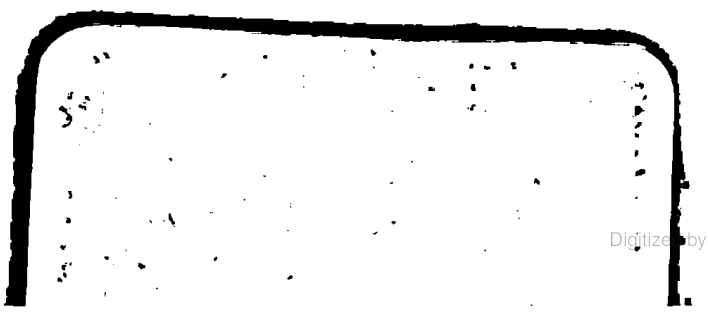

Teach me, my God! a feeble worm,
To rest, and trust, and hope, in thee,
That, Jacob-like, I may perform
Things otherwise too great for me.

What God does now, if dark and dim,
Faith tries to see, though weak and slow,
Depending on the word of Him
Who says, "Hereafter thou shalt know."
